Heard and Seen in Hotel Lobbies

The arrival of Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall at the Jefferson yesterday created a great stir. He attracted no little attention in the lobby and parlors of the hotel whenever he appeared during the day. Mrs. Marshall, not so well known to the public, was the mark of interested gaze whenever her Identity became disclosed.

INSTRUCTOR REGIME DUITES

Will Watch Over Boys at "Swimming Hole," Foot of Twelfth Street.

H. W. Wainwright, recently appointed swimming instructor, began his duties as guardian over the youth of this city yesterday. His post will be at the foot of Twelfth Street, one of the best swimming holes around the city, where the boys can bathe under his watchful eyes.

Mr. Wainwright is an ex-sailor, and is an expert swimmer. He was appointed by the Administrative Board to teach the boys to swim, and at the same time prevent them from taking undue risks.

All police have been notified by Chief Werner to direct boys to this place, and parents are urged to tell their children to find Mr. Wainwright, and to do their swimming under his direction and control.

DEMORALIZATION OF ROAD IS DUE TO MANY REASONS

Asked to give the reasons for the demoralization of the road, Mr. Mellen demoralization of the road, Mr. Mellen said that it was principally due to a large floating debt, which was caused in great measure by the Westchester transactions. The Boston and Maine purchase, bad investments, the general teeling in New England and the large expense of improvements to the Grand Central Station.

Mr. Mellen said that he attended many of the stockholders' meetings.

PUBLISHERS WILLING TO RENT BOOK PLATES

state Board of Education Has Bid to Figure.

Negotiations thus far between the textbook publishers and the special committee of the State Board of Education have disclosed a willingness on the part of a number of the pubon the part of a number of the publishers to bid for the rental of bookplates to the board. At least five of the leading publishing houses have agreed to bid on the contract for bookplate rental proposed by the board as a solution of the differences over the price of schoolbooks in Virginia. The board already has on file a bid from a Virginia printer to print the books from the plates at a nominal figure.

a virginia printer to print the books from the plates at a nominal figure.

More important than this, however, in the progress of negotiations, is the fact that at least one publisher has consented to reduce his price for printed books to the figure it will cost the board to rent the plates and print the board. This will provide the pooks. books. This will entail a reduction in the original prices quoted of about one-third. In the State of California the school board prints books from the school board prints books from plates and distributes them to school children at prices of about two-thirds what they are here.

The apparent willingness of the publishers to meet the board, since the board has developed a determination to get rock bottom prices on textbooks for Virginia children, is pleasing to the members of the special committee, Superintendent Stearnes, Governor Stuart and Attorney-General Pollard. Although many representatives of the publishing houses frankly declare their belief that the board is bluffing in its scheme to print textbooks from rented plates, yet the bluff is carrying enough weight to whip the publishers into line. Each seems afraid that it will lose out entirely in the book adoption if it fails to agree in the book adoption if it fails to agree to bid on the plates.

While confident that it can have the While confident that it can have the books printed by a private printer with only small trouble, the board candidity admits that it would prefer to continue the old arrangement with the publishers. The members of the board are firm, however, in the statement that they will never return to the old contract system until prices have been reduced to a satisfactory mark.

From present indications the committee will be in a position to make an interesting report to the board when it meets here on May 28.

Shredded Wheat Biscuit and Strawberries

Cut out meat and potatoes for a while and try this dish-a dainty, delicious, nourishing dish. Because of its porous shreds and its biscuit form Shredded Wheat combines most naturally and deliciously with all kinds of fresh fruits.

> Heat one or more Biscuits in the oven to restore crispness; then cover with berries or other fresh fruit; serve with milk or cream and sweeten to suit the taste. Better than soggy white flour "short-cake"; contains no yeast, no baking powder, no fats, no chemicals of any kind-just the meat of the golden wheat, steam-cooked, shredded and baked.
